Clean Ocean Action Inaugural Blue Star Certification Award

Wall Township Municipal Award

August 26, 2015

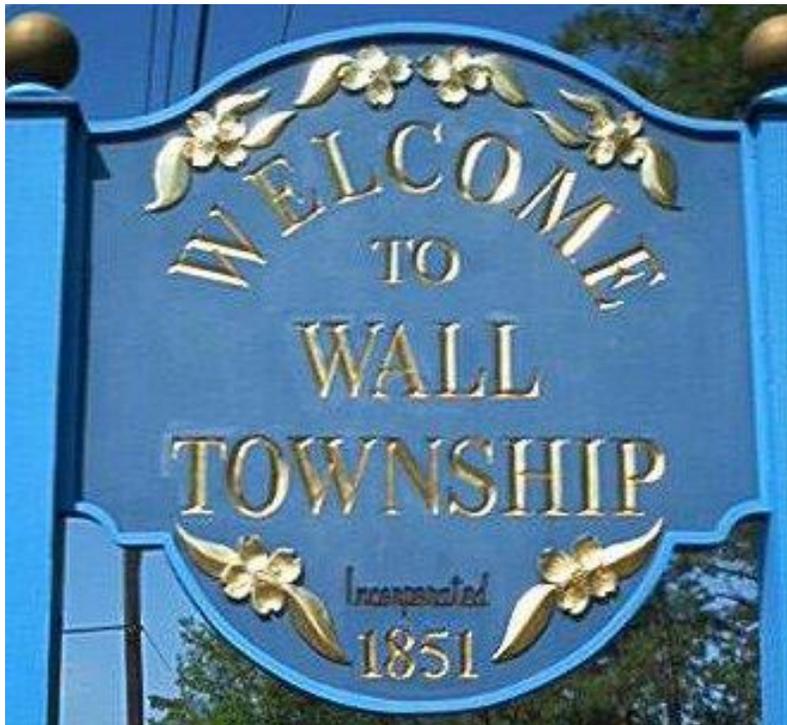

Left: Deputy Mayor Ann Marie Conte, Mayor George Newberry, WTEAC Chair, Wilma Morrissey, COA Executive Director Cindy Zipf, Committeeman Nick DiRocco, COA Marine Science Education Coordinator Catie Tobin, and Committeeman Todd Luttmann.

On Wednesday, August 26th, Clean Ocean Action awarded the Blue Star certification to Wall Township NJ, to recognize their effort to improve water quality. Clean Ocean Action's Municipal Blue Star Program was established in 2014 to encourage towns in coastal regions and beyond to prioritize water quality protection measures, while achieving Sustainable Jersey Certification. Wall Township achieved 90 of the necessary 75 points to attain the Municipal Blue Star certification. Examples of the actions completed include Community Education & Outreach, Education for Sustainability Programs, and Open Space Plans. In addition to Sustainable Jersey projects, towns are required to choose one of COA's additional actions. Wall Township completed the Innovative Water Quality Project action through partnering with Monmouth County in a Wreck Pond Sediment Control Project. This project works to improve water quality within the watershed in an effort to help resolve impairments that contribute to the precautionary closings of the Spring Lake beaches. Additionally, Wall Township afforded its residents with a Clean Water and Lawn Conservation Program that educates the community on promoting better conservation and green practices. The development of the Program was made possible by the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation. Wall Township joins Long Beach Township as the second of two inaugural Blue Star towns. Congratulations to our Blue Star inductees!

History of Wall Brought to Life Through Photo Book

Introduction of “Life in Wall Township: Past and Present” book was brought to fruition as a commemorative visual heritage book in honor of the Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee’s [WTEAC] 35th year of existence in serving Wall Township.

WALL TOWNSHIP — “If one picture can tell 1,000 words, then a new book visually showcasing the history of Wall Township will speak volumes to the eyes. The book blends both the past and the present by capturing it in pictorial form. In addition to historical and noteworthy sites, the WTEAC has included the environmental aspect of nature, namely flowers, wildlife, ponds, waterways, farms and gardens.” Coast Star – April 2, 2015

Members of the Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee [WTEAC] recently thanked its sponsors. In attendance were Committeeman and WTEAC Liaison Clint Hoffman [from left]; Daniel Murphy and Valerie Centanni, assistant vice presidents of Investors Bank; Ray Savacool, engineer of T&M Associates; vice president Ann Slavick and marketing coordinator Nick Martin, of Manasquan Savings Bank; Larry French of French and Parrello Associates; Mayor George Newberry; WTEAC Chair Wilma Morrissey; and Tom Hayes, director of Customer and Community Relations for New Jersey Natural Gas Company.

During a Wall Township executive meeting held on March 11, 2015, Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee [WTEAC] chair Wilma Morrissey introduced the group's book,

The Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee produced a unique pictorial book entitled, Life in Wall Township: Past and Present, which serves as the committee's 35th Year Commemorative Heritage book. It includes more than 350 photographs and illustrations about local plants and animals; water bodies and waterways; gardens; farms; historic, natural, aesthetic, recreational, business and tourism sites; fire and police facilities; schools; churches and cemeteries; and, historic maps and documents. Previous efforts of the volunteer committee, created by township ordinance, include signage; environmental summits and fairs; environmental poetry, essay and poster contests for students; nesting platforms; rain gardens and flower gardens; a self-guided nature trail; open space acquisition; waterway cleanups; and anti-idling and water-pollution public information and signage campaigns.

ANJEC Celebrates Environmental Achievement

By Sheila Baker Gujral,

ANJEC Resource Center environmental commissions and four organizations received the coveted ANJEC Environmental Achievement Award at the 43rd annual Environmental Congress on Friday, September 30, at the Conference Center at Mercer in West Windsor. ANJEC President Nancy Tindall and Executive Director Jennifer M. Coffey presented the awards with high praise for the winning projects.

Winning Environmental Commissions

WALL TOWNSHIP ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE Environmental Posters, Poetry, and Essay Education Interactive Awards

The Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee (WTEAC) has been holding contests for environmental posters, poetry and essays for the past quarter century (26 years for the poster competition, 19 years for the poetry competition and 22 years for the essay contest). The WTEAC has worked in conjunction with Wall Township schools to promote environmental awareness through these contests, which are open to students throughout the district.

The Mayor, the Deputy Mayor and school principals attend the awards ceremony along with the WTEAC for a high profile acknowledgement of student efforts. This longstanding tradition of promoting environmental consciousness among the student population has impacted hundreds of students over the years and has raised environmental awareness among not only the participants, but those who view their work.
