The Wall Township Environmental Advisory Committee hosted their annual Arbor Day/Earth Day Program on June 2 at the Sunrise of Wall on Allaire Road in Wall. Chairwoman Wilma Morrissey welcomed the residents to the program and briefly discussed the celebration and origination of Arbor Day and the benefits of trees.

WTEAC member Lori Lee Corson, who was the organizer of the event, gave a wonderful introduction. Greg Wolek, an expert and environmental member, gave a superb presentation on native plants and trees which was the highlight of the program. Hance Sitkus, also an environmental member and talented musician played, "America the Beautiful", "Don't Sit under the Apple Tree", "What a Wonderful World", and "God Bless America" in a sing-along for the residents.

Lori Lee Corson, who has authored children's books, did a book signing for the Sunrise of Wall library. Chairwoman Wilma Morrissey presented an award winning book published by the Environmental Committee on "Wall Township, Past and Present" for their library.

Freeholder Director, Tom Arnone, spoke to residents about the County and their services. In addition, he paid tribute to the occasion by presenting an Arbor and Earth Day Recognition Certificate which Freeholder Gerry Scharfenberger read to the residents. Freeholder-Elect Sue Kiley accompanied Freeholder Director Tom Arnone and Freeholder Gerry Scharfenberger to the event. Chair Morrissey presented Debbie Killeen with an official proclamation from the Wall Township Committee declaring June 2 as Earth Day/Arbor Day in Wall Township.

L.B. Forcellati donated a tree to be planted on the Sunrise grounds. This was followed by with a luncheon for the residents by Sunrise of Wall.
